Recomendaciones de control interno 2022

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office for National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people, and the UK Government has set out a strategy for the 21st century (Department of Health 1999). The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to improve the health and well-being of older people; (2) to support older people to live independently; (3) to improve the quality of care and services for older people; and (4) to improve the way in which services are organised and delivered.

The strategy is based on the following principles: (1) to improve the health and well-being of older people; (2) to support older people to live independently; (3) to improve the quality of care and services for older people; and (4) to improve the way in which services are organised and delivered.
